

The Answer to Racism

Why do we have race hatred in this world? Why can't all races just get along? Is there really a superior race? This world has been plagued with race wars, strife, and hatred all through mans history. What is the true answer to solve the problems between the different races of people on this earth? Man has been able to send men out into outer space and back; man has created robots and sent them to Mars, and controlled them by remote, while he is right here on earth. Man has built devices that make it possible for people to reach out and communicate with one another any place on this earth from where ever we are. Man has created devices which enable him to give and receive and store knowledge from all peoples, all over the earth; and that knowledge, stored in a tiny little computer chip, can be studied, analyzed, combined with other relevant knowledge to gain the greatest benefit from it. Why can't man discover the right answer to racism, so that we all can get along with each other, and treat one another with mutual respect? The answer may surprise you. That knowledge is available to man, but man has rejected it! Why would man reject such valuable knowledge?

The Great Invisible, but very real, and Almighty, all wise, all understanding being, which is of a different dimension than man, is able to see, with his physical eyes; He has revealed this necessary knowledge to his specially called, and chosen prophets, and apostles, and they have written it down in the pages of the Holy Bible. This being has revealed himself to his creation, man, through his prophets as being God Almighty. Man, Gods own creation has rejected the true God, and his prophets, and their knowledge. There are definite reasons why man has rejected their Great Creator and his wisdom; I will explain about this later. But man has come up with their own inventions of whom and what is the Creator

God. All nations and races of people on this earth have invented their ideas about God, and refused the truth. This way man is still greater than their idea of their God. Man has made their god to be in agreement with their selves, instead of them having to surrender to, and obey a God that commands them to acknowledge that they are wrong, and change themselves to be in agreement with the real being who truly is God Almighty. Man wants to be the head, and not subject to no one but himself. This United States of America is full of churches and religion, yet they don't know the true God, for they have invented god to be how they want him to be, instead of being instructed by the real all wise Creator God. That is why this world is ignorant of the way to true peace between all mankind.

The Root Cause of All of This Worlds Social Evils

Man will never find true peace and unity by looking within his own self for the answers. Any time there is a creation, the creator is the only one who can tell you why the creation was made, and how the creation is to behave in order to perform according to the Creators intended purpose. When the automobile was first created, it was designed and created for a specific purpose. We now all know what the automobile was created for, because its maker told us what it was to be used for, and how it was to be used, and how to properly maintain it so that it will continue to give good service to its owner. When the automobile was first created and introduced to society, people hadn't ever seen anything like it. They were afraid of it. They didn't understand it and it took a while for people to accept it and switch over to using it. Most people were comfortable with their former means of travel, and this new invention seemed like a nuisance.

Now, just suppose that the automobile was created, but no one was ever instructed in its purpose, or in how to properly maintain and use it. Without the creators instructions, suppose that some farmer saw this new contraption and decided that this was a machine to be used as a bulldozer to help him in clearing his south forty acres of land. How long do you think the car would have lasted? Not very long; as you can see, the Creator is the one who can tell you what the creation is, and how it is suppose to function. That is why new automobiles come with an instruction manual in the glove compartment.

The real Creator, God Almighty gave instructions to his first man, Adam in the Garden of Eden before he even made the man a wife. After his wife was made God intended for the man to instruct his wife and be her head, and leader in the right way to live. That way was to be in complete obedience to their Creators instructions. That way was to love and honor, and respect their maker above all else; and to love one another as their own self. By loving, respecting, honoring, and obeying their maker above all else, God would be able to continue to reveal right as opposed to wrong to them as they went through life, and as a result they would accomplish their God ordained purpose, and all would have went well with them, and they would have eventually had developed Holy Righteous Character in themselves so that God could trust them to be given eternal life.

God, in his love and mercy could not allow man to live forever, unless man proves that he will follow their Creators instructions in how to live and behave. God knows that to live contrary to Gods way of outgoing love, cooperation, unity and peace would eventually make man's life so miserable that eternal life in that condition would only be a major curse. God will not allow that to happen, so God determined that the wages for sin is death. (Romans 6: 23) God made man in his own Image, with the hope that if man chooses to live by the way of their Creators instructions, and develop character so that they will not disobey their creator, and then they would be given eternal life as Gods own sons. God is in the process of reproducing himself through man. That is why man was created, but most people on this earth today are ignorant of this wonderful, awesome purpose for our lives. Most people are like the farmer who used the car for a bulldozer. Man is rejecting the knowledge of our Great Creator!

You may wonder what all of this has to do with racism; well it does as I will explain later, but first we need to understand these basic, fundamental truths in order to truly understand about any of our social problems on this earth. You can't understand why things are the way they are today unless you first understand what lead up to this point. It is like trying to understand a movie when you only begin watching the movie when it is near over. You must see the movie in its entirety to really understand it. Likewise the Evils of our society didn't just begin when we were born, but they began back at the beginning of mans creation in the Garden of Eden.

God does what is right because he willing chooses to; there is no one that makes God do what is right. He does right because of his wisdom, love, and righteous character. For man to be Gods true sons they also must be given the choice to choose Good or Evil. God could just force us to have to do what is right, according to his purpose for us, but then we would only be like robots. God wants us to be righteous because we choose to, even if we are tempted to do wrong. That is what Holy righteous character is: The ability and will to do what we know is right even if we must resist strong temptations that pull us to do the wrong. God has perfect, Holy Righteous Character, and if we are to be actually born again into the Devine God family as Gods own sons, then we also must have this Holy Righteous Character formed in us while we are still flesh and blood humans, and still subject to the death penalty. That is what the two trees in the Garden of Eden represented; choosing to reject God and take to ourselves to decide for ourselves what we think is good and what we think is evil. The other tree, the tree of life represented choosing to obey God and trust in his preeminent wisdom to instruct us in what is right and wrong, and by doing so man can be given eternal life. If Adam had taken of the tree of life, then he would have been given the Holy Spirit of God coming into his mind, thus begetting him with the life and mind of God. But since Adam and Eve chose to decide for themselves, under Satan's influence, what is good and what is evil, then God drove them out of the Garden of Eden and barred the way to the tree of life, lest they eat of it and live forever in sin. (Gen. 3: 22-24)

Because of the fact that we must choose Good or Evil, in order for us to be like God, of a free independent mind to decide for ourselves; therefore Adam and Eve had to go past the tree of the knowledge of Good and Evil before getting to the tree of Life. Satan was also there at the tree of the knowledge of good and Evil, to try and deceive them. God knew that now since the option of Evil does exist, we must have the character to reject the evil influence of Satan's deceptions if we want to live forever. Satan, the serpent first called out to the woman, tempting her with the fruit that God had instructed them not to eat of. The bible doesn't say just what the physical fruit was; some have supposed it to be an apple. Whether it was or not doesn't matter. What mattered was that God had told them not to eat of it; it was a test of whether or not they would obey God, even when the devil was telling them that it was good for them, and he even told them that God had lied to them about them dying if they ate of it. The woman used her female dominate side of the brain, (which was created to be more focused on the details, rather than the bottom line) and all of the information that she could gather with her five senses, told her that it was pleasant to look at and that it was physically good for food; and they had to make their decision based on whether they would believe and trust in their Creator, or believe in this seemingly harmless serpent that was trying to act as their friend.

That is the way that the invisible spirit, Satan always does to deceive man into living in disobedience to our Creator and his good laws, which are designed for all of our best interest. Satan comes to unsuspecting human minds and appeals to their fleshly lusts, and appetites, and injects his ideas, and moods, and attitudes into the people, but he deceives the people into living in disobedience to God and the way of life that will produce good results for all involved. Satan deceives the people into thinking that his thoughts are their own thoughts. Satan has deceived many people into thinking that he is only a myth, and not even real. This gives him the opportunity to rule the people to their own hurt, without ever being detected. Satan hates man and doesn't want people to have eternal life, and become the Spirit born children of God. Satan knows that if he can keep people so deceived that they live out their lives in a sinful state of mind that he may prevent them from being able to truly repent and obey God even after God calls them. Satan is our adversary, yet he tries to make sin look and feel so desirable that humans which don't have the Holy Spirit in their minds are strongly inclined to yield in to the temptations of all manner of sin. All of the problems, hurts, pain, and anguish of heart and mind that this world suffers are caused as a result of sin. God will not give eternal life to any of us, until we deliberately and willfully choose to overcome our sinful nature, and let God replace it with his Holy Right nature of Love, and obedience to all of God's laws and way of life.

Satan got to Eve, and deceived her with his lies; but Adam knew better, (1 Tim. 2: 14) but he let his lust to please his wife be more important to him than pleasing his Creator. The woman's brain was designed to be more focused on the details, rather than the bottom line; this made her more susceptible to being deceived, but the man's brain was designed to be more concerned with the overview, or the bottom line. Adam should have stood up and been the leader of his wife here, but he let his lust to please his wife overrule his better judgment. Adam failed his wife and himself, as well as he failed God. To better understand the differences between male and female brains and their way of thinking, you should read my booklet on "Made in The Image of God"; it is also posted on the internet. Before I continue on and get into the more specifics of racism; I want to share with you my personal experience as a child which has helped me to have a better understanding of what happened with Adam and Eve in the Garden of Eden.

My Personal Experience Similar to Adam in the Garden

When I was a boy about five years old my mom and dad were working in the cotton field, and they left me to watch and care for my younger brother. He was about two years younger than me. We were playing at the end of the cotton patch. There were a lot of wild Polk Berries growing along the ditch at the end of the field. If you are not familiar with Polk Berries, they are little purple berries that look similar to small wild grapes. They grow on a stalk instead of a vine as do grapes. Some people use the leaves of these plants to cook as vegetable greens, but the berries are poison to eat. If you handle these ripe berries they will get purple stain all over your hands. The American Indians use to use these berries to make paint.

When Mom and Dad left me in charge of my younger brother, they warned us that these berries are poison and commanded us not to eat them, just like Adam was instructed not to eat of the fruit of the Tree of the Knowledge of Good and Evil. We didn't have any desire to eat these berries until a little girl about five years old came along. She was left there by her parents also while they worked in the cotton field. This little girl tried to get us all to eat some of those berries. We told her that the berries were poison and that our parents said for us not to eat them. The little girl said, no, these berries are not poison and that they were good to eat. She said that they were grapes, and that she ate them all of the time. She picked some of them and began eating them. My younger brother was deceived into believing that they were grapes, but I, like Adam knew better. I remembered the strong instruction of my parents, but I didn't want to disappoint this little girl, and my younger brother wanted to eat some so I did like Adam, and disobeyed my parents and assumed that these berries must not be that poison if this little girl had been eating them, so we started eating them also. While we were eating these berries we got purple berry juice all over our faces and hands. When our parents worked their way to the end of the field where we were at; I realized that I was in trouble. I felt guilty, (spiritually naked) and ashamed of what I had done in disobeying my parents, and failing to rightly lead my younger brother. Can you guess what I did then? I did like Adam and Eve, and went and tried to hide my face and hands from them. I got down on the ground and put my face to the ground and put my hands to the sides of my face and tried to hide what I had done. My younger brother was deceived, and he went running to meet Mom hollering "grapes, grapes". They knew what had happened and came to me worried, and they stuck their fingers down our throats and made us vomit up these berries. I don't know what ever happened to the little girl; I assume she had to be treated also. You need to also read my article on "Spiritual Clothing" to better understand about their shame of being naked. It is also on the internet.

The point of this whole story is that human nature, and Satan's methods are the same, today as they were then. Satan will use the ones more easily deceived to apply peer pressure on even those of us that know better, to seduce us into disobedience of our Creator. Men want to please the women for their own selfish reasons, so they all too often let the one who is just focused on the details make the bottom line decisions. God expects men to stand up for what is right and lead their wives and children in the right direction, instead of just giving in to wrong in order to please the woman. God created the man to be the head, (Eph. 5: 22-23) yet men in our Satan influenced world today are so lust filled that they let the women rule them. Men in our society even let the women tell them, based on their lusts how to wear their hair. That is how the long haired men came to be in our nation back in the 60s and 70s. The women saw the musicians called the “Beatles” and lusted after them, and men wanted to be the object of their lust, so they wore their hair like the “Beatles Band” did. This is only one example of this evil in our society today. You should take a close look at this situation; if you do, you can see that this has been happening in much of our lives. God wants men who will be strong, but righteous leaders to their families, not a bunch of lust filled wimps who let the women rule over them. As the late Herbert W. Armstrong once said; E.R.A. {Equal Rights Amendment} really began with Adam and Eve: “Eve Ruled Adam.” This was intended as a laugh, but not a joke, for it really is true. I’m not just picking on women, but God designed, and intended the man to take the leadership role in marriage and in society. (I Tim. 2: 11-14) (Eph. 5: 22-33) But I must add here also that God intended the man be submitted to his head Jesus Christ. (I Cor. 11: 3) If a man is not living in agreement with God and his instructions, then the man is no better able to lead rightly than the woman! Because men have failed to respect and follow our head Christ, as a result there has been evil tyrant type ruler ship over the families, which has caused women to want to throw off their head and become their own head, “be their self” as they have said. This whole situation has caused much destruction and evil results to the family unit in our modern society. If the man is not submitted to Christ, and the woman submitted to the man, and they see to it that the children are submitted to them both; then Satan is really the one that is ruling! (Just like Satan ruled over Adam and Eve in the Garden of Eden) God help our nation wake up before it’s too late!

Why Man Rejects the Knowledge of God

Yes, man has rejected the knowledge of God that would solve all of this world’s social evils. Why? There really is a great spirit being called Satan the devil, and he has a host of lesser spirit demons that rule in the unsuspecting minds of the people of this world. They have deceived all nations, and races of people on this earth. (Rev. 12: 9) A person that is deceived doesn't know that he is deceived, or else he wouldn't be deceived. People live their lives in the manner that seems best to their self, but they endure all kinds of troubles, strife, sorrows, heartache, pain, division and mental anguish. The people don't know that it is all a result of living in sin contrary to the laws and instruction of God. The automobile creator gives us an instruction manual in the proper and intended use, and care of our cars, his creation. The human being creator also gave us an instruction manual to tell us about the intended purpose, and how to properly care for his creation, the human family. The Holy Bible is God's instruction manual to us for our good. Why are people so willing to do as our human father Adam did and reject the knowledge of our maker?

Man has been deceived by Satan the devil into believing that the way for us to be truly happy is for us to be totally free, and do as we please. Man doesn't want to be subject to God and his laws, because his fleshly, carnal mind lusts to satisfy the lust of his flesh and mind without anyone telling him it is wrong. Man thinks that God's laws would infringe on his happiness, so he rejects them. I remember back before I was called and converted about thirty years ago; I thought that I couldn't be happy if I obeyed God. What foolishness and Ignorance I had then. I now know that the only way to truly be happy and experience the good in life, and avoid the sorrows, hurt, pain , suffering, heartache and division is to completely obey God and all of his commandments. Man can't seem to believe that the God that inspired the Holy Prophets to write the Holy Bible is in fact concerned for our ultimate good and wellbeing, and happiness. The problem is man is physical and carnal; his mind is primarily concerned with his self, and his fleshly appetites, and not concerned with his fellow man, except in how he may profit from him. A man's body parts are all united with each other by the brain and his physical nervous system so that all parts work together as one unit. When one member is hurt, the whole body suffers with it; and all of the body parts will work together to help take care of that one hurt member. But a man doesn't have a nervous system that connects him with his neighbor. Man doesn't feel the pain or pleasure of his fellow man, so it is easy for him to not be concerned with his neighbor's pain and suffering. Man under Satan's influence is basically selfish.

How else could a man commit adultery with his neighbor's wife? How else could a man steal from another man? How else could a man tell a lie about his fellow man? How else could a man trample his fellow co-worker in order to get to the top? How else could a man do something against his wife so bad that he feels the need to lie to her to try and cover it up? How else could a man take deceptive measures to gain the wealth of another man? Man doesn't love his fellow man as his own self, because he is selfish by nature. Man thinks that it is to his best interest to do all kinds of things against his fellow man while perusing his own happiness and wellbeing. God's word tells us that this kind of behavior is wrong, and commands us to love one another as we do our own self. This is the only way to true peace, but it is against mans selfish, lustful nature, so he prefers to reject God and his instruction, rather than admit that there is something wrong with himself and start letting God instruct us in the right way of life.

God has allowed man to live this selfish, lustful way for nearly six thousand years in order that man will learn and know by personal experience what great suffering and appalling evils that his way brings on mankind. The evils of man escalate the longer man lives on this earth. Man has done awesome things in the material realm, but his problems are of a spiritual nature. All of our social problems are caused by man not knowing how, nor having the character to live in a right relationship with one another. Relationships between people are spiritual in nature. Since man doesn't have a physical nervous system to unit him with his fellow humans, he lives hostile against his fellow man. Man is pitted against man by his lust, and he tries to hide some of this with lies and deceptions. No wonder that there are wars, and hostilities between the races of people. Everyone is looking out for self, and that often times is against the welfare and wellbeing of his fellow humans. Not only individuals, but national governments are selfish like this also. That is why the "United Nations" is so divided in trying to solve this world's problems. That is the real cause of wars between nations. (James 4: 1) Man is selfish, lustful, and greedy; therefore there are no grounds for peace. Mans selfish, lustful and greedy nature is the real cause of the world's financial crisis that we are experiencing. Mans selfish, lustful and greedy nature coupled with his advancement of modern knowledge and technology is going to bring man to the very point of complete destruction of all life off this earth if God doesn't step in and stop it. (Matt. 24: 21-22) God will very soon send his son Jesus Christ back to this earth in supreme power and glory to stop man's self destruction and establish his righteous kingdom on this earth. (Dan. 7: 26-27) (Zech. 14: 1-21) (Rev. 2: 26-27) (Isaiah 11: all) (Read all of Jeremiah chapters 30 and 31). But God is going to wait to the last minute, so that man will finally realize that his way of living in disobedience to our Creator has utterly failed, and that man needs the wisdom of our maker to show us how to live and be happy. Satan has been ruling in the minds of the people of this world, to the hurt of all of us humans.

What, And Why Is Racism?

Some people believe that a person is Racist if they don't agree with interracial marriages; is that true? If a person of a certain race is turned down while seeking a job, because of his personal behavior, such as being lazy, sullen, or with an overly superior attitude; or is not skilled or educated in that field; is that racist? If a group of young men of a certain race comes into a place of business, dressed and acting like members of some bad gang, and the owner of the business is afraid of them, or what they may be likely to do, and he calls the police to come and keep a watch out for these men; is that being racist? If a family of a particular race of people moves into a neighborhood and after a while the neighbors notice that these people are obviously running a drug house, or prostitution house with such evidence as traffic coming and going at all hours, and cuss fights taking place, and sluttish looking women hanging out there all time, and loud obnoxious music being played a lot; and the neighbors talk to the landlord to get them evicted from the house; is that being racist? We all do need to understand just what racism is and what is not.

There truly is a lot of Racist, that hate other people just for the color of their skin, and there is a definite cause, but not all perceived racism is actually racism. I will discuss real racism latter in this booklet but first we need to understand that a lot of what has been blamed as racism is not racism at all. The above mentioned cases are not acts of racism at all, but rather people simply trying to protect their own interest in their families, businesses, and their ideas of a decent and safe environment to live and work in. People's unrighteous behavior can and does cause others to not want to have anything to do with them.

Does God love one race of people above the others? No, God loves all of mankind and desires that we all learn to live by the way of love and respect to God above all else, and love our fellow humans as we do our own self, no matter what race our fellow humans are. God made us all to have come from the one man Adam. We all are of one blood. God created in Adam the ability to have children of the three different original races; Black, White and yellow. From these original races all other races have come to be by interracial marriages. These original races were created in Adams seed for even Eve was created from Adams D.N.A. from his rib flesh and bone. The different races do have some different physical characteristics, but it all is made in the image of the great creator God. God had a special purpose in making man of different races, and he didn't want them to intermarry. If God had wanted us to all mix up and combine ourselves, then he wouldn't have made us to be different in the first place. God could have just made us all to be the same, a mixture of all races. But because people refused to obey God and his instructions, the people began to lust to have a wife of a different race, and so the different races began to dilute their original race with other races, and changed their selves into many different degenerate races. God had given special talents or abilities and intellect to each of the different original races which was intended to help them to learn to see one another's abilities, and appreciate the different races, and help one another in trade, creating, building, knowing how to best live in harmony with nature, knowing how to better farm, and produce crops, and livestock, and in such things as shipbuilding, and in working with metals, and many such the like things. Each race was valuable to the other races. This would help them to build a better physical world and society to live in. But God intended that the different races spread abroad and not intermarry with each other. They could trade and carry on commerce with each other, and benefit one another, but remain pure in their bloodline, so as not to pollute, or dilute their God given abilities, talents, understanding, intellect and appearance. This way they could continue to make each race a valuable nation to each other.

God created the different races for a similar reason as he made the man to be different than his wife. They being different were to complement each other instead of competing with each other. The man is not complete by his self, neither is the woman complete by herself; it takes both of them to make a complete man. But God didn't intend that they be united in one physical body, but two bodies working together as one. This would give them opportunity to develop spiritual relationships with each other. To better understand this you need to read my booklet on "Made in the Image of God"; it is on the internet also. Likewise God made the different races to need each other to be able to accomplish the best results in building their world, but these different races had to remain pure in their race. God wants all of us to be able to appreciate each other and love one another while being different than each other in some ways. This can't be accomplished since man has rejected God and his instruction, and cut himself off from access to the Tree of Life, which would have given them the Holy Spirit of God to come into their minds and impart to them the Love that is necessary for them to treat one another with mutual respect, and concern for one another. This is a necessary qualifying step for us that we must learn before we can be given eternal life and the powers of God.

The Holy Spirit is the Spiritual nervous system that we need to unite us all with each other. The Holy Spirit imparts to us the mind of God so that all of us can be in unity with each other spiritually by being united to our head which is Christ. We were all intended to be physically separate, yet united through Christ in our minds so that our relationships will be good for all and not selfishly just for "Me". Today, because of sin, all of the people, races, and nations are selfish and pitted against one another. Satan is ruling this world to our own hurt.

Because men were cut off from God and his Holy Spirit; after men began to multiply on the earth the people wouldn't do as God intended, so they began to interracially marry; and as a result of all of their sins against one another and God, the whole earth was filled with violence and evil. (Gen. 6: 1-6) God saw that everything that the people imagined to do and build was only put to an evil use, so God repented that he had made man upon the face of the earth, so he decided that he would just destroy man and animals off of the earth with a flood. Noah was the only man that had not corrupted his self and valued God's instructions, and still had his original bloodline. God had Noah build a huge boat, called an Ark, and by this means God spared Noah and his wife; and to keep the other races, God saved Noah's three sons and their wives alive also. Noah's sons had married other race wives; this is how all of the races were spared. So with this God again started a new world from Noah and his family. Shem, Ham and Japheth, the three sons of Noah started the three races of people that all races of this present world have descended from.

After men began to multiply on the earth again, they were still all of one language even though they were of different physical races. These people began to combine their God given intellect, skills, talents and abilities to accomplish what they desired. This would have been good except for the fact that they were living in disobedience to God and his way of life. They didn't have the Holy Spirit in their minds to help them to love honor and obey God; and as a result they also couldn't love one another as their own self. They were living according to Satan's way of selfishness, lust, vanity, greed. Because they all did speak the same language, they were able to pool their skills, talents, abilities and intellect to accomplish a common goal. But look what that goal was. They started to build a city, with a tower that would reach into heaven. They thought by this they could do as they pleased, and not have to obey God, and yet they thought they could avoid being destroyed if God caused another flood to come on them. They could just go up in this tower. They didn't want to do as God wanted them to do by spreading abroad and keeping the races pure. By this tower they thought they could sin and get away with it. (Gen. Chapter 11)

From the beginning God had a plan that when man rejected his creator as his instructor, and law giver that he would allow man to live by his own knowledge and understanding, under Satan's influence of course, as Adam and Eve chose to do, for six thousand years. These six thousand years are typical of the six work days in a week. But the seventh thousand year period would be a millennial

Sabbath day. A day is to God as a thousand years, and a thousand years is as a day. (2 Peter 3: 8) The seventh thousand year period Jesus Christ will rule this earth in righteousness. It will be a millennial Sabbath Day of rest from the evil works of Satan and man. (Heb. 4: 1-11) (Rev. 20: 1-3) Satan will be bound and cast off of his throne here on earth, because Christ, the second Adam (1 Cor. 15: 45-47) lived as a human and did not sin, but he overcame the devil and has qualified to be our savior, and the soon coming King of the whole earth. Adam failed to overcome Satan's influence, but Jesus Christ, the second Adam didn't fail; he overcame Satan and this whole world, and is qualified to be the King and savior of those who repent, and surrender to obey God.

Now because of the six thousand year plan for man to have to live and experience his ways apart from God's guidance; God couldn't allow man to continue to pool his talents, skills, abilities, and intellect, while he lives in sin, lest he come up with the technology as man has now in our generation, and destroy all life off of the earth and bring on the end of his world before God's time for it to happen came. God had made man's mind in the image of God and he knew that there is no limit to what man is capable of learning and doing in the physical material realm. (Gen. 11: 6) This is good, but the problem is that without God's Holy Spirit in man, he is incapable of living in peace and unity with his fellow man. Man is selfish, and to have right relationships with one another we must care for each other as we do for our own self. All races combined, sharing technology with each other gives them the power to create things that are capable of destroying all flesh off of the earth, such as the nuclear bomb, yet man don't have the character to put his creations only to good uses for all men. God knew that man's combined intellect of material science combined with his ignorance of ability to have and maintain right spiritual relationships with one another would eventually destroy him off of the earth if God didn't stop it. That is why God changed the languages of all of the different peoples at the Tower of Babel. This caused such confusion that they were forced to stop building the Tower of Babel and to spread abroad as God intended for them to do.

Can you imagine the confusion, resentment and division that took place when they all went in to work one day and most people were blabbing some gibberish that they couldn't understand? As a result those that could understand each other broke away to themselves and moved to other locations and formed completely different nations. With the different nations not being able to communicate with each other, they developed their own customs, inventions, methods, dress, and culture. They even developed their own ideas about God and religion. As time went along they became even more different than the other Races, and nations. God had divided them up according to their families as you can read about in the book of Genesis.

Now we need to understand about a major flaw in all of the peoples thinking. Whether we realize it or not, we humans, in the vanity of our minds tend to think that we are the perfect example of how a human should be. We tend to think anyone that is different than us must have something wrong with them. In some cases we may be right, but in many cases we are wrong. A lot of it is just plain ignorance and foolishness, and vanity. There has only been one man that has ever lived that truly is the perfect example of how we should all be. That man was Jesus Christ; and I'm not talking about his Jewish race, but his character, wisdom, love, righteousness, honesty, faithfulness and knowledge. The way that Christ lived here in the flesh was our perfect example that we should follow. But no; man refuses to be instructed by someone else if it involves being taught that he is wrong and needs to change himself. Man prefers to blind himself with his vanity, and assume that he is right and that anyone that is different must be wrong. That includes ways of living, as well also as color of skin, race, customs, and culture, and even language. I might add here also that all races of people do have a lot wrong with them when it comes to their customs, culture and ways of living, and behavior. We all need to learn from Christ how to conduct our lives in order that we may have peace with one another.

This superior attitude that man has acquired from Satan reminds me of a popular children's story book, written by Dr. Seuss. This book is called, "The Sneeches". Dr. Seuss, in this book depicts this evil very clearly. It is a shame that we adults can't seem to learn the simple lessons that we try to get our children to learn in order to be able to respect one another's differences if there is truly nothing wrong with them. If you get a chance, I recommend that you read that story book, or watch the cartoon about it. It is amazing what we can learn from a cartoon made to expose an evil in our nature.

This superior attitude that people have is what causes people to lump all people of a particular race into the same category, and condemn them all just because they may have had some bad experiences with one or more of the people of that particular race. We all do need to remember that we can help to give our race a bad, or a good name by how we conduct our lives. There truly is much evil and wrong in every race on earth, but that doesn't mean that we should overlook the evils of our own race and condemn all other races. We shouldn't, "throw the baby out with the bath water." What we should do is judge with righteous judgment based on an individual's character and attitude rather than by his skin color, and treat all people in the manner that we would want them to treat us. There are also good and descent folks of all of the different races. What makes a person a good and decent person is if they behave in a Godly, loving, caring, humble, honest, just, faithful, trustworthy manner; race and skin color has nothing to do with it. Often times it is the unrighteous that are condemning those who are of better character than their own selves.

We all should take a good hard and honest look at our own character and let ourselves see and condemn the wrong that we see in our own self. We can change what we don't like in our self if we are willing, but we can't change anyone else. Even by my writing this wisdom to the entire world, I don't expect to change anyone. I only provide this truth to you as a mirror that you as an individual may, if you are willing, look into it and see what you need to change in yourself, so that you can learn to live in right relationships with your fellow man, but whether you see and make those changes is up to you. I know that most will just scoff at what I say, even as they do at the word of God. I'm not your judge, God will do that in due time; I just try to teach helpful knowledge to those who can appreciate it. I know that Racism and all other social evils will continue on this earth until Jesus Christ comes back in all of the power and glory of the Almighty God to force all nations to repent of their evil way, or be destroyed. Christ will establish his righteous rule over all nations and races, all over the earth.

We true Christians will then help him rule in righteousness. (Rev. 2: 26) That day is not far off!

In this end time generation of people on this earth, man has through modern means of travel, communications and education overcome the language barrier that God imposed on them at the Tower of Babel, and man has now been again pooling his God given racial talents, skill, abilities and intellect to create awesome things in the material world, but man still doesn't have the Holy Spirit of God in his mind, and he still doesn't have Holy Character; so man has now created the means of ability to destroy all flesh off of this earth. If God don't stop it just in time that will happen; God prophesied of this modern travel and an increase of knowledge, at the time of the end, in Daniel chapter twelve.

The Wonderful World Tomorrow

When Christ does come back and stop man from destroying himself off of the face of the earth; then he also will make his Holy Spirit available to all flesh who are willing to repent and surrender to him in obedience. (Joel 2: 28-32) God's wrath will be poured out on those who refuse to repent and obey God. Those then converted people will learn to live by the laws and instructions of God, and then there will be true peace between all races. God will then give all of mankind one pure language so that they can understand each other, and the word of God. (Zephaniah 3: 9) Man will finally learn to appreciate one another's differences that are not wrong, and learn from one another in material knowledge, and learn from Christ and his Saints in spiritual knowledge, and they will build an awesome world in the physical realm, while at the same time having right relationships with one another and with their Creator God. Man will then learn of his true purpose for being created. The new world will not be based on lust, greed, vanity and selfishness, but it will be based on true love and concern for each other. That world will be founded on right values and purposes. Even the physical world will be built, based on the true purpose for which God created man for; that we all may eventually be born again into the God family as the very children of God. Eventually we will help Christ rule over the whole universe, all things, and the entire creation! (Heb. 2: 6-11) With such an awesome potential, man won't feel the need to build sky scraping buildings to magnify and exalt himself, but to humbly live in peace and unity with God and his fellow man. Man won't feel the need to try and accumulate excessive wealth in the material world for himself, but he will lay up treasure with God in developing Holy Righteous Character, and learning of the true and right way to live in peace, and in knowing of his awesome mind staggering potential. Man will cooperate with one another instead of competing against one another. What a wonderful world that will be! God inspired the prophet Isaiah to write that when Christ is ruling on this earth that a man will be as a hiding place from the wind to his fellow man. (Isaiah 32: 1-2) I have been out in the cold when the wind is ripping at me and also similar, out in the hot with the wind blowing heat on me; a hiding place from the wind was much welcomed. This pictures the way man will have love for his fellow man, in being a welcome comfort to his needs. What a change in human nature from the way people are selfishly against one another in our day and age. Man will be a blessing to his fellow man, no matter what his race is. We will simply have to live and experience what a wonderful, good world that man will build when his heart is turned to know, and love his Creator, and then be united by brotherly love for one another. Man can't do this by himself, but our Great Creator God will yet show man how to live, and when he does, I believe most people will love it. God wants man to be free to choose for himself, but God wants us to learn from our experiences in sin that God's way is the only way to live. When we really know God and his way of life, we can see that it is truly right, and what we choose. We will then be in obedience to God because we know him and love him instead of feeling that God is trying to deprive us of our pleasure and happiness. Then God's way will also be our way! We will then be in agreement with our Father from the heart, even as Jesus was and is. Man will be one with God. Awesome things will be accomplished forever, throughout eternity of both time and space when man has finally matured and been born again into the Great Spirit Family of God.

Brethren I hope you will copy and study all of my writings, with your bibles open so that you may come to appreciate these truths even as I do. Study all of the scriptures that are referenced to you. When you read your bibles; read with the truths in mind that I have taught, and you will continually see these truths are bared out to be the truth in the words of the Holy Bible. The days will come when Satan will try to shut the mouths of God's true servants and stop the teaching of the true word of God. Hold on to the truth. Even if you don't value the truth now, someday you may desire it. God will eventually make his calling available to all mankind.

A true friend and witness of God and Christ,
